18 YEARS OF DELIVERING RESULTS YOU CAN TRUST

From Attorney Welcome

A MESSAGE TO MY CLIENTS AND FRIENDS

Season's greetings! Plenty has changed at our firm since my last winter newsletter. A transformation in the way we deliver our fundamental services has been a common theme this past year. From an operational standpoint, our firm has improved its efficiency and is constantly working on enriching the value you receive in your representation. We are smoothly navigating every challenge and opportunity with top-notch practices. One of which is the continued offering of online video appointments for new and current clients. Video consults allow our clients to speak with our distinguished legal team while limiting their commutes. I am thrilled that these operational enhancements are here to stay. They continue to be a strong indicator of positive firm performance as demand for online appointments continues to be high. Now more than ever I remain resolute that our firm is gearing up for even more client and firm successes.

Our firm is committed to going against the trend of inadequate customer service. When you call some companies, go to a store, or go out to eat, there is an increased likelihood that your experience was less than satisfactory. We want to be sure that our law firm is delivering an experience that is above and beyond your expectations. The purpose of training staff is to further ensure our firm is prepared to deliver skillful customer service and be as effective as possible. Quality results can only be attained with a real understanding of how we deliver our services. By offering continuous training, I can ensure our performance is what our clients expect. I will not let our firm fall victim to inconsistency and remain keen that our team is ready to help you.

Calling into our office or based on your email communications you may have noticed a few new names/ voices. I'm happy to share that I have added talented legal assistants, paralegals, and interns to our firm this past year. Their diverse backgrounds and unique skill sets have complimented our current team tremendously. There seems to be a greater sense of workable fluidity amongst the team which I am proud of. I cannot believe I am closing out 2022 and welcoming in 2023. It's going to be a big year for our firm and I am excited to share updates of our progress. I encourage you and your loved ones to go out and explore Connecticut this holiday season. Don't shy away from adventurous activities. Most importantly, focusing on being together with your friends and family will only encourage stronger bonding. If you have the time, please consider volunteering or supporting a local non-profit organization because they need our support. During the holiday season, organizations are overwhelmed with a high volume of requests and your assistance would be greatly appreciated. Make an impact by donating food, clothing, or toys. Thank you for considering helping those in our community. I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

¡Felices Fiestas! Mucho ha cambiado en nuestra firma desde mi último boletín de invierno. Una transformación en la forma en que brindamos nuestros servicios fundamentales ha sido un tema común el año pasado. Desde el punto de vista operativo, nuestra firma ha mejorado su eficiencia y trabaja constantemente para enriquecer el valor que recibe en su representación. Estamos navegando sin problemas cada desafío y oportunidad con prácticas de primer nivel. Una de ellas es la oferta continua de citas por video en línea para clientes nuevos y actuales. Las consultas por video permiten a nuestros clientes hablar con nuestro distinguido equipo legal mientras limitan sus viajes diarios. Estoy encantado de que estas mejoras operativas estén aquí para quedarse. Continúan siendo un fuerte indicador del desempeño positivo de la empresa, ya que la demanda de citas en línea sigue siendo alta. Ahora más que nunca sigo decidido a que nuestra firma se esté preparando para obtener aún más éxitos de clientes y firmas.

Nuestra firma está comprometida a ir en contra de la tendencia de servicio al cliente inadecuado. Cuando llama a algunas empresas, va a una tienda o sale a comer, existe una mayor probabilidad de que su experiencia no sea satisfactoria. Queremos estar seguros de que nuestro bufete de abogados está brindando una experiencia que está por encima y más allá de sus expectativas. El propósito de capacitar al personal es garantizar aún más que nuestra empresa esté preparada para brindar un servicio al cliente hábil y ser lo más eficaz posible. Los resultados de calidad solo se pueden lograr con una comprensión real de cómo brindamos nuestros servicios. Al ofrecer capacitación continua, puedo asegurar que nuestro desempeño sea el que esperan nuestros clientes. No dejaré que nuestra firma sea víctima de la inconsistencia y seguiré interesado en que nuestro equipo esté listo para ayudarlo.

Al llamar a nuestra oficina o según sus comunicaciones por correo electrónico, es posible que haya notado algunos nombres/voces nuevos. Me complace compartir que he agregado asistentes legales, asistentes legales y pasantes talentosos a nuestra firma el año pasado. Sus diversos antecedentes y habilidades únicas han complementado enormemente a nuestro equipo actual. Parece haber una mayor sensación de fluidez viable entre el equipo de la que estoy orgulloso. No puedo creer que estoy cerrando 2022 y dando la bienvenida a 2023. Va a ser un gran año para nuestra empresa y estoy emocionado de compartir actualizaciones de nuestro progreso. Los animo a usted y a sus seres queridos a salir y explorar Connecticut en esta temporada navideña. No te alejes de las actividades de aventura. Lo que es más importante, centrarse en estar junto a sus amigos y familiares solo fomentará un vínculo más fuerte. Si tiene tiempo, considere ofrecerse como voluntario o apoyar a una organización local sin fines de lucro porque necesitan nuestro apoyo. Durante la temporada navideña, las organizaciones se ven abrumadas con un gran volumen de solicitudes y su ayuda sería muy apreciada. Haz un impacto donando comida, ropa o juguetes. Gracias por considerar ayudar a aquellos en nuestra comunidad. ¡Os deseo una Feliz Navidad y un Próspero Año Nuevo!

2022 ELECTION RESULTS

The 2022 elections saw the House of Representatives overtaken by the Republicans and Democrats picking up a crucial senate seat in Pennsylvania. The Democrats have maintained their control of the senate ushering in President Biden's first split chamber. It was a historically unlikely outcome as many political pundits considered growing disdain for the Biden administration's mishandling of foreign policy and economic conditions as a push toward the Republicans. With no clear direction from the Republicans, the outcome was far more divided showing the split among Americans regarding the direction in which the country should be headed.

With a split chamber, much of President Biden's bolder legislative agenda will meet the force of a Republican caucus that is vowing to counter his policy initiatives. Unfortunately, for millions of undocumented immigrants, the partisanship in congress will prove unlikely to come together in providing a viable and humane solution for undocumented immigrants. As we look to the 2024 presidential election there is no certainty in which direction the country will be going. What is for certain is that we may be in for a repeat of the 2020 elections with former President Trump announcing his third run for office and President Biden eyeing a second term in the White House.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION WINNERS

✓ GOVERNOR NED LAMONT REELECTED

✓ RICHARD BLUMENTHAL WINS REELECTION

✓ ALL DEMOCRAT HOUSE REPS REELECTED

After four years in office, Ned Lamont increased his support and shut out Bob Stefanowski from the governor's mansion for a second time. Even with significant spending against him, Lamont pulled off a tremendous win. Governor Lamont has shown promising leadership at the helm of the constitution state. There has been a growing sense of optimism within the state on all fronts. Connecticut's fiscal woes are a thing of the past with a fiscal surplus and smart initiatives that seek to strengthen economic conditions within the state. Covid vaccine rollout in the state was a signature accomplishment for the governor. All of these have proved to be a major decision for why voters pegged onto another Lamont term.

PERSONAL INJURY BREAKDOWN

WINTER WEATHER TIPS

As we commence the holiday season, we need to be prepared for what comes with the Christmas Carols and Home Alone binges. We're not talking about peppermint mocha lattes but rather the inclement weather that finds comfort in CT for several months. Friend or foe, winter weather reserves an extra level of caution from us all. The treacherous conditions can be cause for concern for occupants and guests of your business or personal property. For drivers, slippery roads or low visibility are familiar causes of winter car accidents. From inspecting your vehicle for worn tires to clearing icy walkways you can help reduce the chance of being involved in an accident. Proceed with caution to avoid an accident. Consider the following tips when it comes to handling winter weather.

CLEAR WALKWAYS

Remove potential hazards from walkways including fallen debris, snow, and ice. Apply sand or a deicer to help reduce ice buildup and create traction for visitors. Scrape or break ice from surfaces. Ensure pathways are adequately lit for your visitors.

REMOVE SNOW FROM YOUR CAR

Clear snow and ice off your vehicle. This will ensure you have adequate visibility from each window. Ice and snow on your vehicle can be a safety hazard for other drivers. Slow down on icy or wet roads and keep your eyes on the road to avoid an accident.

INSPECT YOUR VEHICLE

Have your vehicle inspected by your mechanic. Complete a full checkup of your brake fluid, oil levels, and wipers. Make sure tires with worn treads are replaced and pressure is maintained. Consider leaving a safety kit in your vehicle in case of an emergency.

Please keep these tips in mind. We owe a duty of care to individuals that are on our property. The last thing you want is to have someone get hurt because you failed to maintain safe property conditions. When it comes to hitting the roads, exercise caution and avoid getting distracted. Your sole responsibility is to respect the rules of the road and pay attention. Do not speed and avoid using your phone. It's a selfish act that can have deadly consequences and not to mention potential legal repercussions.

A qualified attorney can make all the difference when it comes to the results you desire. The billboard, radio ad, or commercial is not defending your interests. It falls on the experience of the lawyer to protect your rights. Don't settle for just any attorney. Do your research and take the time to hear what others may have to say. You should be confident in your representation.

HAVE ENOUGH INSURANCE?

AND THE CLAIM PROCESS

Buying the right amount of insurance can be tricky. As much as we hope not to be involved in an accident they do happen when we least expect them. Although you may save in the short term with lower insurance costs, low policy limits can be a recipe for financial ruin. A common question we get posed is what determines the compensation value in an auto accident. One of the most crucial factors is the at-fault party's policy limits. Most auto injury claims are paid by the at-fault party's insurance. Low limits can diminish recovery. Consider buying as much insurance as you can afford.

After filing a claim an insurance company may approve your damages as is and pay the requested amount.

Deny your auto accident claim while explaining why they believe they had cause for denial.

Liability is accepted but the amount requested in your claim is denied. Ongoing negotiations may occur.

Contact an experienced attorney before contacting the other party's insurance. They may be able to help.

MILLIONS WON, THOUSANDS LOST RESULTS YOU WANT

Insurance companies are not on your side when it comes to paying for your damages. They will do everything in their power to reduce the value that you recover. The insurance company will find ways to discredit and weaken your case. Don't fall victim to their tactics. Take the following tips into account.

Avoid making statements such as "I'm getting paid" or "I'm ready to get my money." Insurance companies will use this type of language against you.

Keep your profiles private and try to remain off social media. If you can't resist, be sure not to share your physical health or other activities with your followers.

Put off any travel you were planning. Your priority should be to recover for your injuries. Vacation is exhausting and can diminish the appeared severity of your injury.

Don't share details without first consulting with an attorney. The insurance is not on your side so keep the questions you may answer short and to the point.

Avoid engaging in exhaustive physical activity. If you have back pain, going to the gym and lifting weights can be harmful to your recovery. This could be used against you.

Be honest with your attorney. The last thing you want is to have the insurance company catch your Attorney off guard with something you may have said or done.

CONNECTICUT RIGHT OF WAY FACTS

RULES OF THE ROAD MATTER

- 1 If a police officer gives you a signal that is different from the posted traffic signs or signals, you must obey the police officer.
- 2 You must yield to anyone on bicycles on bike paths, even where the bike paths cross into the road you're driving on.
- 3 Any blind pedestrian walking with a white cane or a guide dog has the right of way, no matter what the situation is.
- 4 When turning left, you are required to yield to vehicles going straight.
- 5 When waiting to drive through a rotary or traffic circle, the vehicle already in the rotary or circle has the right of way.
- 6 At a 4-way stop, the car that arrives first has the right of way.
- 7 You may not cause gridlock – do not enter an intersection if it is going to block traffic. You must be able to pass all the way through.
- 8 If you hear a siren or see flashing lights, you must always yield to emergency vehicles. This means pulling over and stopping or getting out of the way until the vehicle passes or you are told you can proceed.

CONducir en CONNECTICUT

REGLAS DE LA CALLE

- 1 Si un oficial de policía le da una señal diferente a las señales o señales de tránsito publicadas, debe obedecer al oficial de policía.
- 2 Debe ceder el paso a cualquier persona en los carriles para bicicletas, incluso cuando los carriles para bicicletas se cruzan con la carretera por la que conduce.
- 3 Cualquier peatón ciego que camine con un bastón blanco o un perro guía tiene el derecho de paso, sin importar la situación.
- 4 Al girar a la izquierda, debe ceder el paso a los vehículos que van en línea recta.
- 5 Cuando espera para pasar por una rotonda, el vehículo que ya está en la rotonda tiene el derecho de paso.
- 6 En una parada de 4 vías, el automóvil que llega primero tiene el derecho de paso.
- 7 No puede causar un embotellamiento: no ingrese a una intersección si va a bloquear el tráfico.
- 8 Si escucha una sirena o ve luces intermitentes, siempre debe ceder el paso a los vehículos de emergencia. Esto significa hacerse a un lado y detenerse o salirse del camino hasta que el vehículo pase o le indiquen que puede continuar.

IMMIGRATION BREAKDOWN

CHALLENGES TO COME

President Biden has overseen a record number of illegal border crossings with a seemingly difficult time implementing his policies. Immigration court delays continue to plague millions of immigration cases, thousands of immigrants have been deported under title 42, and DACA continues to face court challenges. In every attempt to improve the immigration system, the Biden administration has faced upheaval from Republicans and numerous court challenges. With the House of Representatives soon to fall under Republican control this divide will only strengthen and undocumented immigrants are unlikely to see any meaningful legislative change for years. We will continue to update you on policy changes.

WORKERS' COMP BREAKDOWN

YOU HAVE WORK RIGHTS

Getting injured on the job can put one in a difficult predicament. Your livelihood is tied to your work and when this is affected by an injury your concerns are warranted. Your priority after a work injury should be to recover not continue to exacerbate the pain in fear of retaliation from your employer. Rest assured your employer cannot fire you for making a work injury claim. In Connecticut, your employer is legally required to carry workers' compensation coverage. This form of insurance is designed to compensate injured parties for their medical treatment and lost wages. Workers' Comp is meant to provide essential benefits for injuries that were a result of your employment. When injured at work, here's what you should do immediately.

NOTIFY YOUR EMPLOYER OF INJURY

You need to notify your employer of your injury as soon as possible. It is important to note that you have a limited amount of time to bring a claim against your employer. You should get in touch with an attorney as soon as possible to make sure you can begin the claim process promptly. Proper notification of your injury to relevant parties will ensure processes are followed. If you are unsure about whom to contact or what to do, consider reaching out to your manager or an attorney.

SEEK MEDICAL ATTENTION

After an injury, your immediate priority should be to seek proper medical attention. Work injuries can be a debilitating experience. Visit your local hospital and get yourself treated for all injuries. Even after being released from the hospital, you should seek the attention of your doctor as some injuries may go unnoticed. For example concussions, spine injuries, and rotator cuff tears can go unchecked in an emergency room. Proper documentation of your injuries is an important part of your claim.

A TIME TO GIVE BACK

Giving back during the holiday season can make a tremendous impact on those in need of community support. Each year, our firm seeks to garner as much interest from our friends to give back. Whether it be through volunteering one's valuable time, donating clothes, toys, or food to local organizations, or providing financial assistance your support can go a long. With the current state of the economy putting significant stress on millions of individuals' pocketbooks, a little help can make a big difference.

Even if you are not in the financial position to offer a monetary donation, you could potentially offer up some of your time to a local organization during the holiday season. For those who need volunteer hours, local churches and food pantries may need volunteers. This is an excellent opportunity to gain volunteer hour requirements and support our communities. Our firm has assembled a list of several organizations in Connecticut that you can donate to. Although we have provided a list of organizations, please feel free to do your research into what organization you would like to support during the holiday season.

Even though the holiday season brings a renewed focus on giving back, please consider supporting your community year-round. By encouraging and sharing community involvement with your friends and family, Connecticut will continue to be a place where all are supported. Below are a few organizations you may want to support this holiday season.

SALVATION ARMY

The Salvation Army needs local support more than ever. From clothing to food donations, you can be an intricate part of helping those in need. If you prefer, you can even make an online donation to support the organizations efforts.

CONNECTICUT FOODSHARE

Foodbanks are in constant need of support. With a rising demand for goods during the holiday season, you can make all the difference. Consider donating perishable goods to your local foodbank or Connecticut Foodshare.

COMMUNITY SOUP KITCHEN

A soup kitchen is an excellent opportunity to interact with your local community. Volunteering your time can help alleviate the shortage of help in soup kitchens. Fill your heart with the pleasure of helping those in need this holiday season!

CONNECTICUT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

A noble Connecticut organization needs your support. Please consider donating toys or monetary donations to Connecticut Children's Hospital. Help bring a smile to a child's face when you choose to give back.
